Inspired by local elements and using traditional materials to contemporary effect, the Resort's all pool villa design seamlessly melds generous indoor and outdoor living space in a total of 136 villas, with external features including landscaped terraces, an al fresco shower, an infinity edge plunge pool and private walled gardens of palms, ferns, hibiscus, heliconia and frangipani. Soft colour schemes reflect the natural environment and complement the peaceful ambience of the site, while the villas' floor to ceiling windows and doors maximise the views and create a true sense of outdoor living.

THE SANCTUARY COLLECTION

Overlooking the Resort's secluded beaches or the turquoise waters, the Presidential Suite and the Six Ocean and Beach Sanctuary Villas boast contemporary design, tropical furnishings and textiles to blend with the feel of exotic island nature. Introduced as a new accommodation category in mid 2015 following a partial Resort renovation, these villas provide extensive indoor living areas with large windows and doors open onto spacious terraces, where the outdoor living areas include a heated private swimming pool or plunge pool and daybed. To add flexibility for those travelling with family or friends, all Sanctuary Villas offer connectivity to a One Bedroom Pool Villa.

ONE BEDROOM POOL VILLAS

The One Bedroom Pool Villa categories are defined by view; Garden, Mangrove, Ocean and Beach (in ascending category order). The Resort's private island is home to 54 of the One Bedroom Villas, mainly of Beach and Ocean view.

In contrast, the remaining 30 One Bedroom Garden and Mangrove Villas are nestled into the tropical nature of the mainland. Highlights of the villas include a covered verandah for al fresco dining, a deep-soaking bathtub, a private outdoor shower and a 1.2m plunge pool.

RESIDENCE VILLAS

Located on the mainland, the Residence Villas are perfectly designed for friends and family to experience Mauritius together, ranging from two to five bedrooms. These luxurious villas feature spacious indoor areas with a living room, dining area, a kitchen and a private study, while outside private swimming pools may be enjoyed by all the family, along with a covered verandah and tropical garden that offers views over the natural mangrove formation or our Ernie Els golf course.

In the Resort's largest villas; the Deluxe, Grand and Royal Residence Villas, a fully equipped kitchen is adjoined by a scullery room with washer and dryer, along with a separate service entrance. acquapazza

Italian Restaurant (seats 90)
Open for dinner (6.30pm – 10.30pm)

A contemporary Italian, Acquapazza enhances classic and regional dishes with modern culinary techniques. The direct translation of 'Acquapazza' in English is 'crazy water' and the term originates from Napoli, where they would refer to the bubbling of the boiling water when cooking as 'Acquapazza' (crazy water).

Situated on the waterfront of the Indian Ocean lagoon, this beautiful setting is complemented by rich, warm decor, with both the water and fire that creates 'Acquapazza' represented by sculptures or flames lit along the entrance way. There is a traditional wood-fired pizza oven in the exterior of the restaurant, where children are able to join the chefs to create their own dish. A water's edge bar is a relaxed venue for pre- or post-dinner drinks and there is also a private dining room that seats 20. Specialties from the menu include Pizza Piemontese, which combines black truffle, cream, parmesan and mozerella and linguine ai ricci di mare, where local sea urchin is showcased in this popular pasta dish.

Pool Bar and Pan-Asian (seats 207)
Open for lunch (12pm – 4pm), late lunch (4pm – 5 pm) and dinner (7pm – 10.30pm)

Situated just metres from the beach, with views over the Californian and infinity edge swimming pools and out to the serene lagoon, Bambou serves international cuisine for lunch and late lunch, including wok dishes, sushi, curries, and Bambou specialties, while for dinner, guests are offered a culinary journey of the Indian Ocean, with a trio of Mauritian, Indian and Chinese menus offering the option of one culinary style or a variety of all three.

The restaurant features covered and outdoor split-level dining alongside the pool and beachfront. The multi-palate experience is open for elongated lunch and relaxed dinners, and comprises a Wok Kitchen, a Tandoor, an outdoor Teppanyaki counter and a sushi counter, as well as an ocean front bar.

DINING

La Plaz

La Plaz Beach Grill Restaurant (Seats 75)
Open for lunch (11am – 4pm).

Just a short boat ride from the Resort, enjoy days of castaway relaxation at our picturesque beach on Ile aux Cerfs – exclusive to Four Seasons guests and listed as one of the Best Beach Clubs in the World 2019 by Condé Nast Traveller. Adding flavourful sustenance to relaxed beach days, the new Beach Grill serves up a menu of fresh seafood with meaty favourites, refreshing salads and appetising sharing platters and snacks. All dishes can be accompanied by local beers, fresh juices and cocktails, which can be enjoyed as part of a meal or sipped leisurely from one of the Beach Grill's swinging bar stools.

Bar lounge (seats 72)
Open from 9 am until late

A central venue for views over the barachois, O bar is located just off the main lobby, adjacent to Beau Champ. Rum cocktails are a specialty of the bar with rum from 14 different countries on offer, in addition to many of Mauritius' finest labels that are produced from the island's abundance of sugar cane. DESTINATION

Situated in the heart of the Indian Ocean, Mauritius is a tropical island of volcanic origin. Located approximately 1,200 miles (1,900 km) off the southeast coast of Africa and east of Madagascar, the island has 200 miles (320 km) of coastline and is bordered by broad lagoons, which have been created by one of the largest coral barrier reefs in the world.

Beyond the palm-lined coast, the island opens up to reveal a 720 square mile (1,865 sq km) interior of vast and rugged nature. Here, sugar plantations, rainforests, waterfalls and dramatic mountain peaks house a rich biodiversity that includes many endangered species, such as the Mauritian Kestrel, Pink Pigeon and Echo Parakeet. The island's strong conservation ethos aims to ensure these, as well as other indigenous flora and fauna, do not follow in the footsteps of the island's native Dodo, hunted to extinction in the 17th century.

Mauritius' diverse colonial history defines its modern culture, with strong British and French influences complemented by a rich African heritage and largely Indian population. Although the island has a reputation as a beach destination, its wild and unspoilt land and seascapes divulge a paradise for outdoor enthusiasts. Activities include mountaineering, rock climbing, mountain biking and hiking, as well as big game fishing, quad biking, reef and wreck diving, zip-lining and kayaking.

From the 18th century, sugar production has been the island's main export, although more recently textiles has come to challenge this. Tourism is a key industry for Mauritius and this has been instrumental in contributing to the island's economic success. Mauritius has now begun to emerge as a strong contender in the field of international financial services, aided by its favourable tax status, strategic Indian Ocean location and reputation for political stability and cross-cultural social harmony.

Four Seasons Resort Mauritius at Anahita is the most southern resort in the eastern coastal belt, in an area untouched by tourism. The surrounding villages showcase traditional Mauritian culture and visitors keen to explore these destinations are welcomed by friendly locals, who take great pride in introducing the traditions and pastimes of the community

DESTINATION

PORT LOUIS

The island's capital and main port. Take a stroll through the market see the vibrant life that it exudes. Shop and dine at Caudan Waterfront; trace the history of Mauritius at the Blue Penny Museum, which includes two of the world's rarest stamps – the 1847 Blue Penny and Red Penny – as well as Prosper d'Épinay's original statue of Paul and Virginia, created in the early 19th century; admire the French colonial style of the 18th century Municipal Theatre or sip a refreshing glass of Alouda and interact with the island's multi-cultural community in the vibrant Port Louis Market. Other places worth a visit are Chinatown; the Mauritius Natural History Museum; the World Heritage Site of the 19th century immigration depot, Aapravasi Ghat; and Champ de Mars, one of the oldest race courses in the Southern hemisphere founded in 1812.

RHUMERIE DE CHAMAREL

Ideally located in a picturesque, fertile valley, this rhumerie is the island's premium producer of agricultural rum. Visitors may enjoy a guided tour of the distillery (active during the June – December harvesting season) followed by a rum tasting and lunch in the L'Alchimiste restaurant.

BIG GAME FISHING

Mauritius is one of the world's top game fishing centres with record-breaking marlin, sailfish and sharks regularly caught off its coast. The Resort's Concierge can arrange big game fishing trips for guests wishing to test their skills against the deep waters of the Indian Ocean.

DOMAINE DE L'ÉTOILE NATURE RESERVE

Literally 'the star' of the island; 6,000 hectares (14,800 acres) of tropical, mountainous landscape, home to many indigenous animals and plants including large herds of deer and the island's oldest Ebony trees. Visitors can enjoy mountain and quad biking, horse riding and archery as well as panoramic views of more than half the island. The addition of a children's adventure park in 2013 allows kids to enjoy hours of entertainment, with water bumper-boats, go-karting and an adventure course on offer.

ILE AUX AIGRETTES

Managed by the Mauritian Wildlife Foundation, this small island off the southeast coast sets international standards for the protection of endangered species. In addition to showcasing the work of the MWF, it is also a sanctuary for plants, animals, reptiles and birds including Mauritian Kestrels, Green Gecko Phelsumas and giant Aldabra tortoises.

LE MORNE

A peninsula at the extreme south-western tip of Mauritius and with a summit of 556 metres above sea level, Le Morne is one of the most imposing sights of the island. Through the 18th century and early years of the 19th century it was used as a hiding place for escaped slaves (maroons). This has made Le Morne a symbol of the slaves' fight for freedom, their suffering, and their sacrifice. Visitors can stroll into the traditional village and feast their eyes on spectacular views of the mountain scenery. In 2008, UNESCO inscribed the site on the World Heritage List.

PAMPLEMOUSSES BOTANICAL GARDEN

Created by French botanist, Pierre Poivre, in the 18th century, the 60-acre garden features over 500 species of indigenous and exotic plants. Highlights include the giant Victoria Amazonica water lilies, the Talipot Palm – which lives for up to 75 years before producing its sole flush of flowers and fruit and subsequently dying – and Château Mont Plaisir, which lies at the heart of the estate.

L'AVENTURE DU SUCRE

Housed in the former Beau Plan sugar factory, this interactive museum charts the important role of sugar in the development of Mauritius, slavery and the rum trade. Visitors wander along a path of sugarcane and through imposing factory machinery; they can also sample sugar and buy local products in the Village-Boutik and enjoy local cuisine at Le Fangourin restaurant.
